DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. While any delay in prosecution is regrettable, upon further review and consideration and upon the entry of the amended claims from the applicant, the following further election of species is made. The previous election of species still stands also.
2. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:
 - a. Species a: binary valve (from claim 5)
 - b. Species b: continuous valve (from claim 6)
 - c. Election of one of the following single species is required under 35 USC 121 for the purpose of examination. This addition requirement is to facilitate examining due to the broad range of valve type combinations that can be made through the applicants valve.
 - i. Species c: Elect the valve type from claim 9, (e.g., binary ONLY, continuous ONLY, or binary and continuous ONLY).

NOTE: in regard to the single species election above as species c, the election should not be open ended (i.e. comprising). An open ended election will be considered non-responsive.

Art Unit: 3643

For example if C is to be chosen from the valve must be stated as "Binary ONLY", or "Continuous only".

NOTE: upon the election of the above species, the following sub-species must also be chosen from.

d. Sub-species d:

Election of one of the following single species is required under 35 USC 121 for the purpose of examination. This addition requirement is to facilitate examining due to the broad range unrelated configurations that can be made through the applicants claim 26. These choices are denoted from the roman numerals that the applicant uses in claim 26. One of the numerals must be chosen.

Species d: Elect the configuration from claim 9, (e.g., i ONLY, ii ONLY, iii ONLY, iv ONLY, v ONLY or i and ii ONLY, etc.).

NOTE: in regard to the single species election above as Sub-species d, the election should not be open ended (i.e. comprising). An open ended election will be considered non-responsive.

ii. For example the chosen configuration must be stated as "i ONLY", or "i and ii only".

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
